COOPER RIVER YACHT CLUB ANNOUNCES FALL OUTDOOR SCHOOL

Collingswood, New Jersey – September 2009 – The Cooper River Yacht Club, Collingswood, NJ, is sponsoring a Cooper River Outdoor School this fall. The Outdoor School will offer sailing, paddling (canoes and kayaks) and environmental education programs for youth ten to twelve years old who live in Camden County. The registration fee is $15 and this one-time fee provides participation in all four Saturday sessions (September 12, 19, 26 and October 3) from 9:00 a.m. to noon.

Pre-registration is required and will continue until the class is filled. All students must be able to swim. The club requests that students register early to reserve a place in the Cooper River Outdoor School. Since one purpose of this outdoor school is to introduce students to activities on and near the river, all students must participate in every activity. The environmental education program will include river ecology and conservation related to the Cooper River. Programs will not be cancelled due to bad weather but on-the-water boating activities may be limited and students will have indoor and outdoor hands-on activities.

Additional information about the Cooper River Outdoor School is available from www.cooperriveryc.org or by calling (856) 869-9145 or (215) 703-SAIL.
