

From Mike Dezinno

Site-Unseen™

Mike's blue collar childhood comes home to roost with Blind Mike the Tradesman, tools in hand, at the helm!

During every show, week after week, Mike will be sharing the hundreds of creative tricks he's invented during his fifty year love affair with tools and his pursuit of personal excellence.

Mike will be proving how anyone, blind or sighted, can cut, measure, nail, wire, plumb, install, roof, side, frame, screw, glue, and what ever else it takes to get the job done safely, accurately, and against what most people would believe to be insurmountable odds.

It's the ultimate reality show because it has a relevant message, a real mission, and a genuine purpose - all with the simple but powerful underlying theme: It's so easy a blind guy can do it, so why not you?!

Mike DeZinno is a skilled tradesman, and is also nationally known as the "Blind Business Guru," recognized as an expert in traditional business as well as the emerging home-based business model. He has achieved documented success in industries where most people have failed.

Mike was born blind and his first victory came when he fought and won the right to an education. He became the first blind child mainstreamed into the public school system in the U.S. At a time in our society when little was expected of blind people, the schools were ill prepared for a blind but gifted child like Mike.

He also endured (and ultimately overcame) the crushing poverty he encountered being raised in an inner-city housing project by an immigrant, single mom. He is a remarkable individual who has never let his blindness or anything else hold him back. Against all odds, Mike has found a way to overcome it all and achieved greater success than most.

Season One

A must see for anyone into hard-core reality television! Mike is building a Habitat for Humanity® house with an all-disabled construction crew including disabled soldiers returning from Iraq. The show also features a lineup of celebrity guests from the world of politics, sports, entertainment and business who can be seen working right along side of Mike and his crew of disabled daredevils while they help a deserving Habitat for Humanity® family build their first home.

Season Two

Mike goes back to his roots. Mike was raised by an immigrant single mom who instilled in him his unrelenting can-do attitude. As a tribute to Mike's mother, it's only fitting that Season 2 will be the erection of a post-and-beam log home in the scenic hills of New England, with an all female construction crew.
